

Mobile Smartphone Technology

Be Innovative
Be Savvy
Be Effective
Be Qponomical

[que·pon·om·iks], noun

Qponomics is the social science that provides people through the use of Smartphone technology, the choices to get what they want – when they want. People react to incentives. Making an option more attractive will make more people choose it.

The current economy has made things tough for everyone which has also provided a great opportunity for businesses to separate themselves from the crowd and stand-out in their respected marketplace. Qponomics provides a cost-effective/painless way to create and manage a mobile marketing plan of action.

Qponomics drives new business and increases customer loyalty through the use of a free GPS location-based Smartphone app. Moving your brand from a world of impressions to a world of engagement. That's 173 million possible Smartphone users creating your business unlimited opportunity. It is no longer about being the biggest; the nimbler-faster will succeed.
